Problem Statement

Ideal

- A college website through which students can access different information, resources, opportunities, and notifications in mere seconds.

Reality

- Students find it very difficult to navigate through website because of its atrocious user interface and unfriendly nature.

Consequences

- Users waste approximately two minutes per day to find the required thing on the website. With even a thousand users, it amounts to 1000*2 = 2000 minutes of productivity wasted.
- Visitor count has reached to 100k, yet the satisfaction rate has been on decline.

Proposal

- To add different new features with quick accessibility all over the website with the help of
- Have students, software developers and teachers' collaboration to evaluate potential solutions for a multi-purpose website.
